Portus is designed with an advanced data acquisition layer that allows the application to tap into all of your key business systems and bring that information into one unified platform.

Immediate Return on Investment

Portus is a turnkey solution that is ready to go on day 1. Immediately after installation, Portus provides hundreds of real-time, interactive dashboards, reports, and analytics with continuous drill down into more levels of detail all presented in an easy-to-use browser experience. Unlike ad-hoc reporting tools that have a significant start up time, with Portus you get value immediately which results in the following tangible benefits:

- Little to no reliance on internal report writing resources.
- Significant efficiency gain for all analytic functions (Management, Finance, Sales, Planning, Purchasing)
- Better performance due to better understanding of the underlying dynamics of the business.

Portus as a Platform

Portus is a flexible platform ready to add multiple data sources and incremental functionality. With Portus installed as your primary analytics and business intelligence solution, we can add supplementary functions to combine with your ERP data to present a more complete picture. For example:

- Integration of other data sources (PLM, HRMS, etc.)
- Supplier Pricing and Inventory Availability Feeds
- Customer Portals
- Comments Engine

No Risk Sales Model

The Portus sales model is specifically engineered to minimize risk. There are no upfront investments or long-term commitments.

We offer a Free 30-Day Trial so that you can see Portus in action with your own data before making a purchasing decision.

Once you are customer, you pay for Portus on a monthly subscription basis for unlimited users and unlimited user sessions and can cancel at any time. As a result, you have a built-in mechanism to reassess your investment decision every month.

We are confident that once you start using Portus, the investment rationale will be self-evident and that it will be an integral part of your overall tool chest for long-term success.

Build a Competitive Advantage

Regardless of your type of business, in today's world, how you manage your data and how effective you are in understanding they underlying dynamics of your business is essential to customer satisfaction.

Portus provides you a low-cost, turnkey solution to turbo-charge your reporting and analytics processes thereby improving your results and providing you with a source of tangible competitive advantage.
